Rich in History Washington Seen As Our Nation's Lifeline

(Editor's Note: Jerry Reynolds, Torrance Herald staff writer and student at UC at Berkeley, visited the nation's capital in June. Today he gives some of his impressions of Washington, D.C. and what his visit meant to him.)

Many places across this land of ours are worth seeing, but there are many more that one should make a special effort to visit.

Washington, D.C., is one of those special places. So special, in fact, that no American who can should miss seeing it. It is here that the wheels of government turn, and it is here that some of the most sacred treasures of America can be seen.

As thousands of other Americans — and thousands of strangers to the United States — will do this year, I was able to tour the Nation's Capital this summer. That brief stay has left an impression that will only mellow with the ages.

Washington is a busy place. New buildings are going up throughout the city. But amid the hum of construction hammers and hurry-up pace of bureaucrats, there is a silent, sentimental world only you can know.

The city is dominated by the Mall. At one end stands the Capitol and at the other the Washington Monument rises 550 feet over the city. Along the Mall most of the nation's treasures are housed in numerous buildings.

The National Art Gallery, the National Museum, the Smithsonian Institute, and the National Archives are imposing in themselves. But inside you may see world famous paintings which depict a part of the history of the United States, the Wright Brothers' plane, Allan Shepard's space capsule, or the founding documents of the Nation.

Two things stand out in my mind. One is the solemn look on the faces of all those who stood and read the yellowed lines of the Declaration of Independence.

TWO LEFT FEET
Dear Feet: You need professional help from a bonafide instructor. Anyone who can count can dance. You may never be a threat to Ray Bolger but you can learn enough to get by.

Confidential to FLAT AS AN IRONING BOARD: Save your money, Babe, those creams and salves won't help anybody but the person who sells them. A good posture will improve your figure immensely. If you don't feel this is enough, get to a lingerie store and get the help you need. (P.S. Falsies are out. Now the padding is in the bra.)

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Independence and the Constitution. The second, and perhaps most inspiring, is the hush of quiet inside the Lincoln Memorial. Here you gaze only at a large seated figure of Lincoln, but somehow, he seems to come to life.

Other places hold their own fascination. The historic rooms of the White House, the various government buildings, and Jefferson Memorial tell their own stories.

The changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery is a never-to-be-forgotten sight, and at Mt. Vernon, just south of Washington, you can see the tomb of the First President and tour the mansion and supporting buildings.

You never see all of Washington, no matter how long you stay. But you never forget what you see, and while you're there the pageant of history comes to life — past, present, and even future.

Grands Plan To Picnic

Past Noble Grands club of Torrance Rebekah Lodge 347 will hold a picnic at Torrance Park on Monday, July 23, at 6 p.m. The main dish and coffee will be provided by the club with members bringing the salads and desserts.

All members, husbands and friends are invited. The next regular business meeting of the Torrance Rebekah Lodge 347, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will be held July 25 at the Torrance Masonic Temple, 2326 Cabrillo Ave., at 8 p.m. Stelma Norris will be in charge with Lucille Taute serving as chairman.

A Foursome

Dining together at Marine-Land Restaurant in Palos Verdes were Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Cutter of Miraleste Hills and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Bonacci of Rolling Hills. Incentive for the small party in the "Porpoise Room," where they enjoyed The Ink Spots, was Mrs. Bonacci's birthday anniversary.

Whirl of Parties Fetes Bette Beaman, Bride-elect

Miss Betty Beaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Beaman, 1425 W. 216th St., and popular bride-elect of John Daniels, has been entertained at a number of pre-nuptial parties during the past few weeks.

First to honor the future bride were Mrs. Harvey Smart and Mrs. William Malin, who entertained at a linen shower for her at the Smart home, 1421 W. 216th St.

The hostesses used the bride's colors of blue and white in party decorations and refreshments. Eighteen friends brought linen gifts for her new home.

Narbonne High school friends and neighborhood friends made up the guest list for the miscellaneous shower given by Miss Pat Robinson at her home, 1328 W. 216th St.

The wedding theme was effectively used in decorating. The centerpiece was a decorated cake topped by a bride doll and napkins and nuts carried out the wedding ring theme.

Attending this party were Mrs. S. P. Beaman, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Clyde Robinson, Mrs. Steven Petty, Mrs. Donna Chain.

Others were Misses Jeanne Fraley, Betty Jennings, Cheryl Cooper, Sandy Vanderplas, Maghild Myron, and Gloria Robinson.

Members of the future bridegroom's family gathered at the home of Mrs. Shirley Meyer in Inglewood to compliment the prospective bride.

The honoree opened an array of gifts for her new home amid party decorations of blue and white.

A Luncheon

Miss Charlene V. Hall of El Camino College was the guest of honor at a farewell luncheon at the Three Lions restaurant, with Miss Frances Miceli serving as the hostess. Among the 15 guests were Shirley Bell and Shirley Clifford.

Birthday Fete

Miss Lanie Vint and Messrs. Donald Olsen and Larry O'Brien were on hand to help Margaret Hollowell of 4316 230th St., Torrance, mark her birthday with a dinner party at the Three Lions Restaurant.
